Title: Outpost Log

Author: Xivie

This is by far the most pathetic place Vincent has established a camp. There's nothing around here for as far as the eye can see. I know why he did it though, to get even with me. He still holds ME responsible for getting him caught by the Guards while doing that Trinsic Job. If he would have just kept his fool mouth shut when I warned him, we would not have been discovered. Well, no matter, not like the Yew Jails are hard to escape from.
